RSIC 2019 INDIA

Emerald Heights hosted the World's Biggest Round Square International Conference

The Emerald Heights International School hosted the world's biggest Round Square International Conference from October 02-08, 2019. Over six days more than 700 student delegates and 300 adult delegates of 157 schools from 33 countries across the world came together at the Emerald Heights for the Round Square International Conference 2019 (RSIC 2019). The theme of the conference was Sarvodaya- The World We Wish To See. Sarvodaya is a Sanskrit word meaning progress for all. The conference logo is the world being raised up by hands from different parts of the world. It signifies that we should mould the world and ourselves into what we wish to see.

It was a week of multinational and multicultural experience in which delegates from different countries, cultures and perspectives came together to share, learn, understand and, be inspired to make a positive difference in the world – to begin to create a route map to The World We Wish To See.

Keynote Speakers

The world's renowned keynote speakers from diverse fields and discussion panels throughout the conference ignited delegates' curiosity and challenged their perceptions.

The opening speaker was Shri Kailash Satyarthi, a child's rights activist who was awarded a Nobel Peace Prize in 2014 for his struggle against the suppression of children and young people and for the right of all children to education. During his keynote he urged delegates to expand the horizons of their thoughts and be visionaries. The topic of Shri Satyarthi's keynote speech was, "Compassion and Youth".

Also on the opening day, delegates heard from Honorable Dr. Shashi Tharoor, an Indian politician, writer and a former career international diplomat who is currently serving as Member of Parliament (Rajya Sabha) explored the themes of democracy and globalization. The topic of Dr. Tharoor's keynote speech was, "India in Transition: From Midnight to Millenium and Beyond".

As the conference progressed, Hanson Robotics brought us Sophia, a social humanoid robot that uses artificial intelligence, visual data processing and facial recognition and is the first robot to receive citizenship of any country.

Our next speaker was Ms. Kiran Gandhi, an electronic music producer, drummer, artist and activist. She is also known by her stage name Madame Gandhi. Her music career includes being a touring drummer for artists M.I.A., Thievery Corporation, and Kehlani. Gandhi's music and activism focuses on female empowerment and fourth-wave feminism. She encouraged students to use their passion for purpose, and then invited the students on stage to perform with her! The topic of Ms. Gandhi's keynote speech was, "Own Your Voice: Using Passion For Purpose".

Delegates were fortunate to begin their final day of the conference with a 3K run for cancer alongside Major D.P. Singh, a retired officer of the Indian Army, war veteran who is known as India's first blade runner, and who later addressed the conference. Major Singh has run 26 half marathons using a prosthetic 'blade' leg. During his keynote he motivated students to take charge of their life "You are the Boss of your life and once you recognise that, then no hurdle or challenge is big enough for you." he said. The topic of Major Singh's keynote speech was, "I am the Boss".

The final speaker of the RSIC2019 was Shri Gaur Gopal Das, a former Hewlett Packard engineer turned Indian lifestyle coach and motivational speaker who is part of the International Society for Krishna Consciousness (ISKCON). He spoke about attitude being the most important factor in personal success and discussed mindfulness and peace education, leaving delegates with a powerful and important message that "achievements are not the only determinants of true success, which comes only when we have what really matters to us." The topic of Shri Das's keynote speech was, "Secrets of Impactful Success".

Community Service

On Service day, delegates volunteered with some of Emerald Heights' community partners including Indore Deaf Bilingual Academy, where delegates learnt some basic sign language, Mahesh Drishtiheen Kalyan Sangh, which provides for the social and economic rehabilitation of girls that are visually impaired, Manuvridhi Kendra, an education and training centre for Gynodaya Academy, where free education is offered for children living in a slum area, Jeevanshala and Kalyan Samiti Angan Pariyojna.

Adventure Day

On the adventure day delegates explored the ancient city of Mandu and Maheshwar, located on the banks of river Narmada with great historical significance in India.

Formal Recognition of Achievements

During the Opening Ceremony Round Square welcomed eight new Global Member schools to its community:

Also during the Opening Ceremony, Shreya Mantha from Providence Day School was formally recognised as the 2019 Kurt Hahn Prize winner for her "Foundation for Girls" initiative, a youth-led social venture dedicated to empowering girls in crisis.

During the Conference Closing Ceremony the winners of annual Roy McComish Art Award were announced. Prizes went to Blake from Holy Innocents, Anveshika from Sunbeam School, Ben from Holy Innocents, Jiyoung from Chiong Shim, and Camille from Bermuda High School. Congratulations to these young, aspiring artists.

International and Intercultural Understanding

Each evening of the conference student delegations from attending schools performed in a hugely entertaining and impressive nightly showcase of international talent. These multicultural talent shows celebrated and shared the diversity of the Round Square network and each school's rich cultural heritage in a riot of colour, dance and rhythm.

After the multicultural evenings, Emerald Heights presented an impressive series of nighttime festivals throughout the conference, showcasing the rich and diverse culture of India through food, dance, music, cultural dress, street entertainment, market stalls of hand-crafted wares, and so much more.

Artefact Exhibition and Dinosaur Fossil Park

There was an artefact exhibition during the conference, specifically on the Mahatma Gandhi, which enabled delegates to get a glimpse of India's rich cultural and historical past.

"Discovery Land", a Dinosaur Fossil Park was created during the conference wherein fossils displayed were parts of dinosaur rib, chunk of a sauropod rower limb, theropod eggs nest, part of a vertebrae, masala egg, theropod egg within the rock matrix, sauropod egg, distal end of theropod femur, fragmented sauropod femur bone and part of a vertebrae.

RSIC is an annual meet-up of like minded schools across the world from 50 countries. Every year the conference is hosted by different member schools in different parts of the world around mid-September or October. The conference gives high-school students various opportunities to express themselves, debate on topical issues, forge friendships, supports local communities, and develop an international understanding. The conference also helps students to explore various cultures around the globe and interact with several people from innumerable nationalities which makes them more acceptable as human being towards the different ethnicity around us.

Over the course of the week, delegates undertook great adventures, heard from some fantastic speakers, explored the conference theme in mixed Baraza discussions and challenged themselves to step outside their comfort zone. In doing so they made many friends, exchanged ideas and discovered more about themselves, about each other and, about the wonders of their host country, than they ever imagined.

We will join hands to work for 'Sarvodaya' of all.

Field Trips

Field trips are a must for an educational institution. Like every year, students of our primary school visited the manufacturing units including Parle-G, Choco Chips and Apna Sweets. The children were very excited and full of curiosity. The bus rides, though full of fun, tested their patience as they eagerly waited to reach their destination. They were all burning with curiosity and were ready to set off on a mission of exploration. With teachers and factory owners acting as guides, the students got tours at the production sites. The children came out of the factories, much wiser and more confident, proving the cliché 'Seeing is Believing.'

Interactive Programme on Solar Eclipse

Our Students interacted with Retired ISRO Scientists

Dr. Prabhakar Sharma (Retired ISRO Senior Scientist), Dr. Suyash Dake (Former ISRO Scientist and Director, Sunday Science School), and Mr. S.P. Jaiswal (Director, Indore Science Center) addressed the students of the school. The main objective of the programme was to discuss the forthcoming solar eclipse of 26th December, 2019. Dr. Sharma and Dr. Dake explained why a solar eclipse occurs and the various superstitions that persist in the society about the solar and lunar eclipses. These scientists emphasized that contrary to the popular belief that watching eclipses brings bad luck for the viewers, solar eclipses offer a unique opportunity to study solar atmosphere and the various processes that are associated with it. This is because during an eclipse the solar disc is covered partially/fully which offers scientists a unique opportunity to view it (using appropriate filters) which is normally not possible as the solar disc is very bright and therefore cannot be viewed directly with an unaided eye. Mr. Jaiswal explained the use of special goggles (developed by Dr. Dake) that were brought along by him for viewing the solar disc during a solar eclipse. Students asked several questions concerning the various phenomena associated with solar eclipse, such as the formation of a diamond ring, etc. Dr. Sharma also explained various challenges, opportunities and excitement associated with a career in science, particularly space science.

SPORTS DAY

The much awaited Sports Day was held on 26th January. The atmosphere of the school was charged with excitement. Sports Day was officially inaugurated by President Sir with hoisting of the National Tricolour. The Students displayed extraordinary coordination as they marched past in perfect synchronization. The grandeur of the event was magnified by the unique and spirited welcome dance. The audience got swept away in a deluge of breathtaking performances of PT, Yoga, Aerobics and Gymnastics, each conducted with flawless dexterity. While parents watched with pride as students collected their awards, medals and trophies after passionately competing in the races. The Parachute display was the real eye catcher. The Sports Day was concluded with a patriotic musical tribute to our freedom fighters.

INTRAMURAL COMPETITIONS

The school believes in the overall development of a child. Keeping the same in mind, intramural competitions are designed and balanced with academic structure so that students get an opportunity to learn beyond books. Such exposure enhances social skills, intellectual skills, team work and confidence among students. This year marked a zestful display of students' talents in various activities.

Career Confluence

Alumni Panel Discussion

It's all about the practices, be it the past or the present.

We believe that our Alumni is our greatest asset. We strongly aim to strengthen our communication and bond with our Alumni in various creative ways. One such way is by constantly inviting them to speak to the current students on selecting various Careers and Colleges. Alumni plays an important role in helping students pick the right college/course, which instills a sense of confidence in them. When the students hear how the opportunities and resources provided by the institution should be tapped effectively to make the best out of their time here, it has altogether an indelible imprint. This not only enhances the students' experience but also gives them the desired competitive edge in today's tough market.

Arts From a Divergent Point

Art activities are a terrific way for kids of all ages to express themselves creatively. Whether you like painting, drawing, stamping, or making cards or collages, there's a room for every piece. Moreover, if nurtured well and exposed to a variety of platforms, perfect art can turn to a perfect project," said Zachary from Columbia University during his arts session with the Emeralites. It relieves burdensome stress, encourages creative thinking, boosts self-esteem, and provides a sense of accomplishment which altogether makes them happier person. The fun filled and unique in its kind arts class by Zack pivoted mainly around arts as a stress buster and fun cracker. The students had an opportunity to look at arts from an entirely different divergence.

Canadian Universities' Fair

The school career counseling department hosted a cohort of delegates from the renowned universities of Canada who introduced Canadian Higher Education System and then interacted closely with the students and the parents to answer their queries.

Columbia Symposium

Emerald Heights creates History by hosting The First Symposium Global Project of Columbia University, New York in Central India

The Emerald Heights International School brought in town an exclusive educational symposium with an Ivy League Institute, Columbia University, New York, USA, themed on 'Classics for the Emerging World'. The 8-day long symposium aimed to mark a turning point of the stereotype learning experiences for the students across the town. Professor Rachel Chung and Professor Kim Chung along with the Columbian fellows Mariel Corinne Tai Sander, Zachary Morris Ginsberg and Srivatsav Pyda discussed and analyzed the three popular texts from different civilizations: The Analects of Confucius, The Bhagwad Gita and Socrates' Defense by Plato which opened up the doors to thinking and imagining to a whole new level thereby bringing the reality of life to surface, which otherwise goes unnoticed in the mad race of meaningless competition. While the students were deeply engaged into probing versus, they also brainstormed on the relevance of these texts in day to day life. During the 8-day long symposium classes, the participants experienced and lived enriching philosophical moments with Professors and students from Columbia University. The Columbian team was all impressed with the rich Indian culture and tradition on their trips to Ujjain, Mandu, Maheshwar, Delhi, Agra and Jaipur.

IIT Session with Anisha Banthia

Emeralite Anisha Banthia talks about how to crack IIT being a regular student

Anisha Banthia, our proud alumni who cracked IIT being a regular school student highlighted the significance of meticulous time management and regularity in attending school for the complete success in IIT. Anisha, a current student at IIT Delhi, Electrical Engineering, strictly warned her juniors against the mad hoax of joining dummy school for the want of success in IIT. Her main emphasis was on regularity in attending school to possess strong grip over the quintessential basics, which otherwise goes ignored in coaching classes.

"In general, try to write down steps or mechanisms involved in the reaction. Try to learn it and write it down without looking at reference material. Also, getting an essence of mechanism will help you in recalling reaction if you don't remember it well," said Anisha during her interaction with the juniors aspiring for IIT.

The Great Indian Universities' Expo

An exclusive and the largest platform for the students 'The Great Indian Universities Expo' showcased around 30 leading Indian Universities and Colleges on campus. While most students and parents find issues travelling places and accumulating information, our Career Counseling Department took the onus of easing this hassle by inviting the leading universities and giving opportunity to explore the most lucrative and diverse institution to fit their needs. The participating universities were:

- Ashoka University
- OP Jindal Global University
- Shiv Nadar University

Our School Career Counselor Positioned in 2019 College Board Counselor Recognition Program

We congratulate our school counselor, Ms. Vandana Murjani for not only being recognized by the school, but also The College Board, US organization. By far, Ms Vandana and her department has been the backbone of student development and we congratulate and acknowledge her efforts and dedication, which has been nothing short of remarkable.

US Universities' Fair

The US Higher Education Grandiosity:
Scaffold 1 and Scaffold 2

For prospective students, attending a university fair is an intrinsic part of the journey towards choosing the right university and making the successful application. These fairs also allow the students to get answers to their queries, discover completely new opportunities, share ideas with the school counselors, and get the expert advice on standardized tests, applications, scholarships/funding the education, and likewise. In the session 2019-20, the school conducted two US universities' fairs, Scaffold 1 and Scaffold 2. The students of Classes-XI and XII found it a great way to get a feel of the ethos of the university, and also received tailored advice on the next steps like understanding admission requirements and making a strong application.

The participating universities in the Scaffold 1 were:

Let's know about them in Depth

While we find it useful and convenient hosting delegation from multiple universities together, we do not ignore the many benefits of having delegation from some really elite universities individually, as a personalized session unveils many facets of the institution and leaves ample space for the questions to be resolved.

Professor Rachel Chung with Humanities Students

"Humans evolve as true humans if they study philosophy"
Professor Rachel Chung,
Columbia University,
USA.

The pursuit of better questions is every bit as important as the pursuit of better answers. The skills and habits honed by the core-careful observation, close analysis, effective argument, imaginative comparison, and respect for a variety of ideas-provide a rigorous preparation for life as an engaged citizen in today's complex and changing world, says professor Rachel to the Humanities cohort of Class-XII while conducting a brainstorming session with them. "These conversations ensure that education lays an emphasis on active intellectual engagement provide students with opportunities to develop intellectual relationships with the society and contribute positively to the surroundings."

Thus, we give vent to such prolific platforms, which compel and propel the students to further seek knowledge on life lessons, which is of ultimate significance to each and every human being.
